NORTHWEST Orient AIRLINES

Welcome
Aboard!

I am one of the many employees who will serve you while you are a guest of Northwest Orient Airlines. As you know, we try in every way possible to make our paying passengers feel they are "special guests". You can help us in this endeavor by following the few simple but very important instructions contained in this envelope. Always remember NR means that you are a non-revenue space available passenger and as such must allow the revenue passengers first consideration. It doesn't mean, however, that we aren't glad to have you aboard. We're going to do everything we can to make your trip a pleasant and enjoyable experience.

USE AIR MAIL, AIR PARCEL POST, and AIR EXPRESS

1. Be a Clock Watcher . . . don't wait until the last minute. Please telephone our Reservations Office as soon as possible to be listed for the flight you desire. Always be sure to identify yourself as a non-revenue passenger.

2. Courtesy is the Best Policy . . . allow our revenue passengers the courtesy of priority in service at the ticket and information counters. Please check in for your flight at least thirty minutes prior to flight departure time.

3. Nobody Likes to be Deplaned . . . however, if your flight should be sold out at some point en route, you'll have to deplane and wait for the next flight. Please do so quietly. If you are paged in the terminal or onboard the flight either by name or as an NR passenger, please respond promptly.

4. Revenue Passengers must always be treated as special guests, so . . . please don't crowd—wait until revenue passengers have boarded the aircraft so they may have their choice of seats. Please cooperate if the stewardess asks you to change seats.

5. Meals Sometimes Create a Problem . . . occasionally a dinner we've planned for you must be served to a last-minute revenue passenger. We're very sorry when this happens, but we know you'll understand.

You're a special Guest when you fly Northwest

To our Interline Guests:

We at Northwest appreciate the opportunity to acquaint you better with the flight service offered on the routes we fly. Welcome aboard!

But, even more, we are grateful when you remember Northwest in booking connecting passengers coast to coast, to Hawaii, Alaska, Canada and the Orient. Our complete information and reservation services are available to you.

Thank you.
